while reads Cosmopolitan

LIBRARY

And when, at your destination, you strolled through the hotel lobby, stopping at the news stand, it was no coincidence that the progressive, prosperous looking man you had noticed at the desk as you registered, asked for Cosmopolitan. Nearly everybody worth while reads Cosmopolitan.

At the home of your friend—in a quiet suburb—you find Cosmopolitan on the library table, and after dinner, over the cigars, you have a topic in common. Perhaps it's Fannie Hurst whose first novel is appearing in Cosmopolitan. You may, like many others, call her "the Dickens of America" for her uncommon stories about common people.

Your dummy at bridge in the evening, may tell you that every time he plays lately he remembers what Harvey O'Higgins said in Cosmopolitan about the young man who fell in love with a girl at first sight because her long, slim, white hands at the card-table exerted a mysterious attraction for him. "Yes, nearly everybody worth while reads Cosmopolitan," you say to yourself.

Your competent secretary brings the Cosmopolitan to the office with her, and you hear her say to your assistant, "Now if you want to read something really good, don't miss the new Rupert Hughes story in this month's Cosmopolitan." If you haven't read it, you make a mental note to do so—and so it goes. It is borne upon you more and more that nearly everybody worth while reads Cosmopolitan.

And because nearly everybody worth while reads Cosmopolitan—because an ambitious cow-puncher is just as willing to ride forty miles to the nearest post-office for his copy as you are to pick it up on the stand on your way home—Cosmopolitan is a really great, a really important magazine in the lives of about a million and a half worth while people.

25th Anniversary

This is the 25th Anniversary of the H. W. Kastor & Sons Advertising Company. In issuing the Kastor Directory annually, our one purpose has been to furnish advertisers with a reliable, helpful guide in the selection of media.

That we have successfully accomplished this purpose, year after year, is attested to by the fact that prominent advertisers all over the United States consult this Directory regularly and have proved the reliability of the facts it contains by their own successes in the advertising field.

As stated on the preceding page, all circulation and population figures have been obtained from the highest authoritative sources.

Naturally, however, the advertiser who seeks the greatest possible returns from his advertising investment is eager for every scrap of useful information that can be given him regarding the various publications in which his advertisements appear. This Directory supplies in brief and convenient form, authenticated facts relative to circulation, rates, form closing dates, etc., facts which every advertiser must be familiar with in planning his campaign. However, there are certain facts of a more intimate nature which are often of as great importance to the advertiser as the ones mentioned.

It is fair to assume that the publisher of a newspaper, magazine or any other form of publication, knows his own market better—that is, he has more accurate and detailed information at hand regarding the territorial location, the environment, circumstances, buying power and responsiveness to advertising of his particular subscribers—than the advertiser. And in planning an advertising campaign, in order to make the most of its possibilities, the advertiser gives due consideration to these facts.

We are glad, therefore, that so many publishers have extended to us their hearty co-operation in the compilation of informative data regarding their respective publications.

By referring to the index, pages 11 to 13, you will find a comprehensive list of publications, the merits of which are set forth in the advertising pages of this Directory. A reading of these advertisements will enable the advertiser to form an intelligent opinion regarding the adaptability of any of these publications to his particular needs. We suggest that, in planning a campaign, you read these advertisements carefully, as we have every reason to believe that these publishers' statements are absolutely reliable.

Any additional information which you may desire regarding any newspaper, magazine, farm journal, mail order, religious, literary, trade, lodge or other publication of whatever character or class, whether it be advertised in this Directory or not, will be cheerfully furnished by addressing your inquiry direct to us.

Confronted with the necessity of extending the scope of his advertising many an advertiser is frequently in doubt as to what particular class of publications will pay him best. Magazines have paid him well. Will farm papers make as good a showing? How about daily and Sunday newspapers? Will it pay him to go into religious and literary journals.

By reason of its 25 years of practical experience, the Kastor organization feels that it is qualified to answer intelligently these and other similar questions. In fact, whatever the nature of your advertising problem may be, our consultation service is at your free disposal and we shall be glad to suggest and advise to the best of our ability.

Farmers Buy When They Are Busy

A carefully conducted investigation, made early in 1920, shows that stores in country trading centers do 22% more business in June, July and August than in December, January and February.

The period of greatest business activity is, with the farmer, the period of greatest buying activity. Roads are better, traveling is easier, weather conditions are attractive—everything combines to make it easy for country folks to buy in summer.

Where goods can be manufactured the year round, they should be sold the same way—twelve months in the year. For further details “as to when the farmer does his buying,” consult any advertising agency.

COMFORT Reaches Farm Women

IF you have anything to sell to farm and small-town people you naturally recognize the woman as an important buying factor.

A small-town merchant says:

"While 50% of my sales are to men, about 90% of these men bring slips made out by their wives. The farmer's wife is more than 50-50 in the new prosperity—and about 90-10 in the purchase of goods."

COMFORT reaches not only farm women—but the entire family as well. It is a magazine of general appeal—to the farmer, his wife and the young folks.

Recent estimates are that not over 3,700,000 farm families take any magazine. That being true, then:

of the people who read your advertising, have important bearing upon its results. Advertising effect is reaction. The customer is of greater consequence than the goods.

Selective Advertising is the kind that classifies the prospect and seeks him out from the crowd. Mere printing and distribution does not make advertising nor sell goods. If 75% of the circulation of the medium you use is outside the field in which your article is of interest you pay four times what your advertising should cost. The excess must be covered by a higher selling price. This discourages buying, cuts down consumption, increases production costs. A sound sales campaign permits advertising only in mediums giving a high percentage of potential prospects.

Hearst's

A Magazine with a Mission

The Mission of Hearst's is to Entertain and Enlighten. It aims to strike a happy balance between fiction and more serious forms of literature. Even through its entertainment, however, there runs an undercurrent of serious purpose—a very definite motive. That motive is this: To discuss, elucidate, and solve—so far as may be possible—the great problems of home, family, economic, social and public life that people everywhere are themselves considering and discussing.

To best achieve this high purpose Hearst's offers its readers the

Works of the World's Great Writers
Thoughts of the World's Great Thinkers
Words of the World's Real Leaders

Some Facts About Hearst's

Hearst's Magazine has more contributors — authors, artists and special writers — listed in Who's Who in America and in the English Who's Who than any other magazine you can buy at any price. Only the very best writers are allowed in Hearst's!

At least half of every issue of Hearst's Magazine is devoted to articles of serious purpose. Maurice Maeterlinck, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Sir Gilbert K. Chesterton, G. Bernard Shaw and other great thinkers of Europe and America are frequent contributors.

There are always three—and sometimes four—great serials running in Hearst's. Among the great novelists whose best-sellers usually appear in Hearst's before publication in book form are such universal favorites as Hall Caine, E. P. Oppenheim, Gouverneur Morris, Leroy Scott, Blasco Ibanez, etc.

Every issue of Hearst's Magazine contains from six to nine brilliant short stories by the greatest short story writers of Europe and America. Compare for yourself the short stories in Hearst's with those in any ordinary magazine you may think of.

Hearst's is the most expensive to produce of all magazines. It contains not only a greater variety of editorial material, but a larger quantity and a finer quality than any other magazine. A count will show you 25 or more distinct features in each number—nearly twice as many as are in the average magazine.

More than 85 per cent of Hearst's circulation is purchased at news stands—voluntarily—at 35 cents a copy. The balance consists of subscriptions, secured on editorial merit alone, without premiums, clubbing offers or other extraneous inducement.

Advertisements in The Gentlewoman are a real service to its readers

Remember that for the over two million readers of the "GENTLEWOMAN" there is no Fifth Avenue, New York, or State Street, Chicago, with great modern stores where elaborate displays of all kinds of merchandise can be seen any day at any hour.

The "GENTLEWOMAN" readers are small-town or farm women, who want to know—just as do their city cousins—how the outside world is living, what people are wearing, how they are furnishing their homes, etc.

But because they cannot see as many or as varied displays of merchandise, or see as many people, or enter as many homes, these small-town women must depend more upon the printed page for their information.

Advertisements in the "GENTLEWOMAN" render a real merchandising service to its subscribers, just as the editorial section is a service in providing inspiring, entertaining and informative articles on sewing, cooking, home-management, home decoration, health, personal charm and other home or personal subjects.

"GENTLEWOMAN" readers will respond to your message, for they are accustomed to look to the advertising columns for guidance in buying anything for the home or for personal use.

You can reach The "GENTLEWOMAN'S" over 1,200,000 subscribers for $6.00 per agate line, with discounts for quarter page or more space used in one issue.

Her Habit of Buying

When a city woman wants anything—and has the money to pay for it—she goes to the stores to “shop”. Not only is competition keen on whatever she intended to buy, but a hundred other different things tempt her to spend her money in some other way.

The woman in a small town or out in the country may also go to a store—not to “shop” but to buy. The competition for her money isn’t so keen. The storekeeper is a neighbor and friend, with a desire to help her get just what she wants. If he hasn’t it, the small town or country woman doesn’t hesitate to use the United States mails. She is in the habit of writing for information and buying by mail, if that is the only way to get what she wants.

She is in the habit of buying before she sees, instead of seeing a dozen competing varieties before she buys one—or changes her mind.

There are many differences between the woman who lives in a big city and her sister in the small town. But if the only difference was this different habit of buying, the small town field would still be vastly more profitable to the advertiser—whether he sold through local stores or direct by mail.

Every line of reading matter in the “GENTLEWOMAN” is of vital interest to women. It inspires them; it helps them; and it amuses them.

You can reach the “GENTLEWOMAN’S” 1,200,000 subscribers for $6.00 per agate line, with discounts for quarter page or more space used in one issue.

Roosevelt

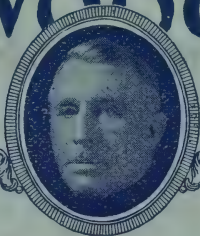

With Us from 1914 to 1918!

For the last four years of his life we knew Theodore Roosevelt as a fellow worker. His daily presence and unfailing courage were an inspiration calculated to galvanize men of wood. We hold it no virtue to say that his influence made us better Americans, sensitized our patriotism and built the groundwork for a magazine that could truly serve its country.

METROPOLITAN is carrying on the Roosevelt traditions—the square deal—the unfailing belief in the America of Lincoln—the sincere progressiveness which only will save men and nations from the death of dry rot.

Metropolitan

Wood

With Us in 1919 and 1920!

Leonard Wood is one of the great outstanding figures of the war. When Roosevelt died we asked General Wood to carry on Colonel Roosevelt's Page in the METROPOLITAN. He agreed. And since then thousands of Americans have given their enthusiastic approval of our choice. Every month there is a contribution by General Wood in the METROPOLITAN. It is the blunt, fearless expression of a straight-thinking man on one of the great issues of the day.

Metropolitan

The One Big Reason

The general magazine and most of the big woman's publications are not specifically addressed to the woman in the small town and rural district field, nor do they deal with the social and home conditions which characterize life in this particular field, and that is the ONE BIG REASON why the women of this field prefer the "GENTLE-WOMAN" regardless of whether or not it is as pretty or attractive (to you) as some other magazine.

They will not sacrifice its real helpfulness or inspiration to take any magazine in which the editor is talking to women who are leading lives under different circumstances and conditions.

You cannot question the desirability (particularly at the present) of reaching this field, and the eastern and western editions of the "GENTLE-WOMAN" will carry your story to over one million two hundred thousand of these homes at the least possible cost, and you may be sure that every subscriber will read your story in the "GENTLEWOMAN."

Increase Your Sales Without Big Cash Layout

A Sale Is First Made In a Man's Mind

The mental process that leads to that sale may be started, carried along and brought to a successful termination entirely through the personal efforts of a salesman. This method of working up to and completing a sale, however, has one big drawback; the salesman can only cover a limited territory and complete a limited number of sales or see a limited number of prospects, and many times before the sale is consummated, he is required to retrace his steps time and again. As a result, much of his valuable time is wasted in going from one prospect to another and back again and again.

Should it be possible to employ enough salesmen to go into more than 700,000 homes, stay there a week, meet in the family circle every evening or every idle hour, tell them of your proposition on every possible occasion during the day for seven days of the week, then advertising would not be necessary. But you haven't enough money to do this sort of thing and even if you had you could not buy a place in any family circle.

It is necessary for you to advertise in family papers if you are to be represented in thousands of home circles. You must make your sales in the minds of people, whom you are unable to meet by personal representation, through the advertising columns of tried publications. You must set forth an argument in a clean, strong, convincing advertisement sufficient to arouse interest enough in the reader to produce action, tell them why they should buy your goods, be your agent or invest in your proposition. What a saving in dollars this plan can be made to be rather than trying to cover the entire country by salesmen.

The Saturday Blade and Chicago Ledger

cover a territory that is omitted by other publications; that in-between district, the small towns and rural sections where the people are impulsive, generous, easily befriended and easily impressed, but with whom an impression is lasting. Our circulation is so complete that hardly a hamlet, small town or rural section anywhere is untouched.

Send your copy now. Let our papers be your salesmen in nearly three-quarter million homes. Others are making money out of our powerful circulation. Why don't you?

Foremost Farm Papers are a combination selected because each paper is foremost in its territory. The papers did not put themselves on this list arbitrarily. They were selected for the list and invited to become a part of it by men who know the farm field. Their merit, not their desire, put them on it.

Here is a list reaching nearly two million farmers who are the cream of farm circulation. As a basic farm circulation this is without a peer. Use part of it, if you must begin small. Then all of it. Then add other papers, for special intensive work in selected territories. But make this list the solid rock basis.

Acknowledged Leadership

By concentrating on the idea of giving one hundred percent service to the people in the North Central States who live on farms and depend on the farm for their living, Successful Farming has attained unquestioned leadership in the farm field.

Experienced advertisers have invested more money through experienced advertising agents in Successful Farming service in our February issue than has ever before been invested by advertisers in any one issue of any farm paper.

For the third consecutive year, (perhaps longer) advertisers have invested more money in Successful Farming service in our February number than they have ever before invested in any one issue of any farm paper.

We count it an honor to have made this record for three successive years among the splendid farm papers of America, without regard to location, age or special classification. Our actual soliciting force has not been materially increased in ten years.

We have concentrated on service.

ITS FIELD

The field of The Dairy Farmer is strictly national. Wherever there is a nucleus of farmers who are milking cows for profit, there will be found a few Dairy Farmer subscribers. The Dairy Farmer is found wherever men are making dairying the backbone of their farming. These are the most prosperous men— They get their income regularly— They know very accurately what they have to depend upon— Their farms are becoming richer every year— They get better money for their crops because they market them through their livestock. These are the men who have the fine big barns, the tall silos and the group of dairy cattle in the background. These are the men who get a weekly or monthly milk check or cream check, and who are in the market for everything that the city man buys which is necessary to his comfort and happiness. When you are looking over the great farm field, consider first the dairy farmer and his guide and friend

THE BOYCE

Bought to Read When 85 percent of a 700,000 circulation is in single copy sales, year in, year out, the only assumption must be that the papers are bought to read. People do not pay out even small change, week after week, for papers they do not intend to read. 30,000 agents in the small towns and villages sell the papers for cash. Their coming is an event, and their steady customers have been won on merit.

The Saturday Blade

Where Wealth Is And these papers circulate in the field where the big producing classes live. In the gap between the big cities and the farms lies a huge middle ground where is found a majority of the country's population. They are home owners, merchants, doctors, bankers, teachers, skilled mechanics—the kind of people who constitute the primary market for reliable trade-marked, advertised goods.

PUBLICATIONS

Proof of Results When not only the large space advertising but even the small copy produces sales—then responsiveness is finally proved. A recent small-space advertisement in The Saturday Blade and Chicago Ledger produced over 7,000 inquiries and made over 4,000 actual sales. And the cost per inquiry was 4.2 cents as compared with an average of 6.3 cents for all of 13 publications used. A present large advertiser has used $20,000 worth of space yearly for eight years. The returns each year have proven better than those of the preceding year. Ask for other result-reports.

Good Will These papers have won a place in their reader's hearts because their work has been constructive. For 30 years they have labored to produce public sentiment against every form of vice and in favor of every clean, constructive ideal. They have won the real good will and affection of approximately 4,000,000 regular readers.

The advertiser can make capital of this 30 years of service.

Increasing Purchasing Power

Of the sixty classes of occupations represented by the majority of readers of THE SATURDAY BLADE and CHICAGO LEDGER, public statistics show that for the most part all are showing greater earnings by 10 per cent to 60 per cent that of a short time ago. Principal among those to whom statistics do not apply—and the extent of increased earnings is not public knowledge—are the following:

4,353 47,300 4,200

Bankers Small Town Business Hotel Owners Men and Merchants

The nature of their business speaks for itself

Proof of the increasing purchasing power of the BLADE and LEDGER circulation, however, is not left to statistics and conjecture. The record sheets of our big mass of direct-by-mail advertising tells the story and without refutation. Advertisers who have used our columns from one to twenty-five years have experienced in 1919 one of the best, and in a majority of cases, the best year they have ever experienced with the BLADE and LEDGER.

Big space users are enthusiastic over the prospects for 1920 which look to be better even than 1919.

Small space users are voicing their approval of 1919 returns by largely increasing their schedule for 1920.

Manufacturers who distribute their product through dealers have awakened to the big opportunities and possibilities in BLADE and LEDGER circulation. Their favorable opinion of the big purchasing power represented by our circulation is expressed in yearly schedules for 1920.

THE SATURDAY BLADE and CHICAGO LEDGER hold big surprises for both readers and advertisers during the next twelve months.

Orders for definite space and insertions during 1920 will be accepted at the present rate of $2.45 per line is one medium with one policy and co-ordinated by one purpose. Yet it is published in five distinct sections, each with an independent editorial staff located in the territory which it serves.

This sectional plan enables the editors to come into the closest possible contact with their readers, to get a "close-up" of their work, to know and be known first hand. It enables them to say, "All of this I saw; part of this I was." It enables them to give timely advice. What is seasonal in the north may be a month old farther south. Advice on growing spring wheat does not interest the cotton grower.

Your advertising can be placed before a million worthwhile farm families with all the force of this enormous circulation and the power from the localized reader-interest maintained under the sectional plan of editing.

OTHER CAPPER PUBLICATIONS

In addition to THE CAPPER FARM PRESS the Capper Publications include three other powerful papers with a combined circulation of more than one million three hundred and fifty thousand.

The Topeka Daily Capital

has more Kansas circulation than any other Kansas daily. It is the official mouthpiece of Senator Capper and as such holds a fortunate place in the esteem and confidence of Kansas people. For the first six months of 1919 it had 752,888 lines gain over 1918, or 300,000 lines greater than its nearest competitor. National advertisers who use it immediately link their sales plan with genuine sales efforts of local dealers and retailers.

Capper's Weekly

is the great Mid-west journal of comment. It is not a newspaper but an editorial publication with a conscience. It is the kind of paper that the substantial rural and small-town people read. It might be said that it is the challenger for and champion of the great Mid-western people. It has more than 320,000 subscribers.

The Household

as its name implies, is a publication for the home, going to more than a million worth-while readers, carrying a message of good cheer. Its bright, wholesome fiction, its other important pages make it a desirable medium for nationally advertised products.

The Richest Agricultural Circle

Being the Subscription Territory of

The National Farmer and Stock Grower

Published Monthly at St. Louis, Mo.

St. Louis stands in the center of the richest farm acreage in the United States. In a three-hundred-mile circle around St. Louis there are 1,350,000 farms averaging 120 acres, and a rural population of 9,000,000 people. The value of the grain productions in this circle ascertained in the census year was placed at six hundred millions of dollars.

The census enumeration of live stock in this territory is 11,400,000 cattle, 18,540,000 hogs, 6,400,000 sheep, 5,255,000 horses and 1,266,326 mules—a total of 42,861,326 farm animals. There is also a poultry interest, selling surplus products, which they do not hesitate to claim to be equal in value to all grain productions. In vegetable production, and large and small fruits, the same territory is prominent. In farm dairying it is second to none, producing milk, cream, butter and cheese that reach every market in the country.

In this territory, of which St. Louis is the center, the farmer is within a few miles of good markets and he has at last come into his own. Formerly the farmer sold many of his products at less than cost of production and city people fattened upon his labors. Today the farmer is approaching an affluent condition and the so-called professional consumers have to study economy.

The most influential farm publication circulating in the territory named is The National Farmer and Stock Grower, issued monthly at St. Louis, Mo. There are other good papers, but The National Farmer and Stock Grower is by far the best. As an advertising medium it reaches substantial farming establishments, and it is read with equal satisfaction by the farmer, the farmer's wife, his sons, his daughters and his male and female employees. All advertising is restricted to such as the publishers can guarantee to be reliable.

The Most National of Farm Papers

Farm Life is the most thoroughly national of farm papers—both in the distribution of its readers and in the editorial spirit and appeal which makes that wide distribution possible.

Farm Life is published in Southern Indiana, where East, West, North and South meet. Here at the center of American population the American spirit exists in its purity. And this spirit appeals to Americans everywhere—Americans born and Americans made.

It is this spirit that has given its appeal to the literature of Indiana—to the work of James Whitcomb Riley, Booth Tarkington, David Graham Phillips and George Ade; and it is this same spirit that has given its appeal to Farm Life, bringing its subscribers easily in great and ever-increasing numbers.

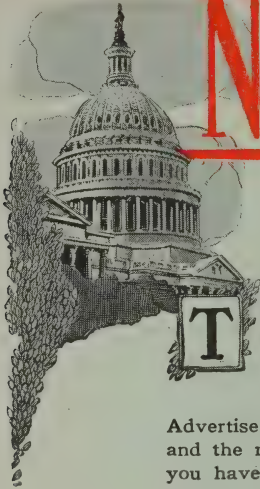

In its outlook and viewpoint it is a paper not for any one section but for the entire country. Farm Life is truly national—and American.

The circulation is now 650,000 copies and the rate is $3.85 per line and $1732.50 a page. The page is 450 lines—standard for the leading national Farm Journals.

How Farm Life Covers the Country

Farm Life is the most national of national farm papers because it is the most generally and evenly distributed. It covers the country with uniform thoroughness.

The following table shows how nearly the percentage of Farm Life copies distributed in each section corresponds with the percentage of the total number of American farms in the section.

Eastern States		Western States
	Per Cent		Per Cent
Farms	12	Farms	6
Farm Life	17	Farm Life	6
Middle States		Southern States
Farms	36	Farms	46
Farm Life	32	Farm Life	45

No other national farm publication can show so even a distribution, giving the south, now in the most rapid period of its development, its due representation.

"It's a Street & Smith Publication"

"It's a Street & Smith Publication"

Four of these publications — Popular — Top-Notch — Detective Story and People's make a direct appeal to young men. The first three, through wholesome, red-blooded fiction of adventure, out-door sports, business, and the fascinating study of crime and its detection. People's is more serious and constructive. Inspirational features predominate, sprinkled with good fiction.

Ainslee's, altho the oldest, appears to be the youngest in its new size of 429 lines. Beautiful illustrations, rotogravure of stage and screen stars and romantic fiction makes Ainslee's appeal mostly to women—young women. Smith's, conservative and old fashioned, is read by every member of the family.

These six magazines cover a wide field and create a mighty favorable impression on dealers by their impressive display on broadcasts and wide news stand sales. Their consumer value is emphasized by the fact that direct advertising is wonderfully successful in this group.

The Nonpartisan Leader

The predominating farmer influence in the states of North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, Montana and Idaho. Circulating also extensively in Wisconsin, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and Colorado.

Strictly a farm paper, and no subscriptions are solicited from people who do not live on farms. The subscription price of $2.50 per year is the highest of any farm paper in the country.

The circulation is over 210,000 and increased nearly 18,000 the first three months of 1919, and is still growing.

The Farm Home

Springfield, Illinois

1. The Farm Home was founded in 1894.
2. The number of subscribers is now over 100,000. These are farmer subscribers living in the richest part of America.
3. Subscription price fifty cents per year—three years for one dollar. All subscribers pay in advance. No delinquents carried longer than three months. We employ only high salaried solicitors. Many farmer subscribers mail their own renewal subscriptions.
4. At least one-half of The Farm Home is edited by its own readers so that it is a symposium of and an exchange of ideas among its readers. This idea gives a "personal interest" touch to its pages in a way that causes subscribers naturally to read The Farm Home with great thoroughness, and The Farm Home gets a greater hold on its readers than papers from whose editors the subscribers are entirely separated.
5. The make-up of The Farm Home places all advertisements either full position or next to reading matter.
6. Send for a sample copy. You will be convinced that your advertisement will be read.

ALBERTA

is the most progressive province in Western Canada. Its farmers (who make up 65 % of the total population) buy city-bred merchandise of every description. They also buy relatively more tractors, trucks, automobiles, lighting plants, washing machines, gas engines, milking machines, and other modern equipment than any other class of farmer in Canada. Alberta farm women are big purchasers of every standard food product and home comfort. And they buy advertised goods because they know they can rely on a trade-marked article.

THE FARM AND RANCH REVIEW and the Country Home

published semi-monthly at Calgary DOMINATES eastern British Columbia, Alberta and western Saskatchewan because it is the ONLY agricultural paper published in this vast territory. It is live and progressive and is the "Home" paper for 45,000 prosperous families. Concentrate on this field and get the cream of the western Canadian market.

Add to this Delaware, northern Maryland, and last, but not least, Philadelphia, and you have a territory more populous, progressive and prosperous than any like area in the United States.

What Do We Mean by Quality Circulation?

We mean that the readers of PHYSICAL CULTURE are drawn to it for the benefits to be derived. That they recognize an actual need for the health and success-building ideas on which its editorial policy is built.

On this basis we have reared a publication with a powerful intensive reader-interest, that reflects itself in returns to the advertiser out of all proportion to the quantity of circulation.

Which goes to prove that in quality, rather than in numbers, is the true value of circulation arrived at.

"TRUTH IS STRANGER THAN FICTION"

It was on this theory that the

True Story Magazine

was founded

It leaped into instant popularity with the public. More than 50,000 copies of the first issue were purchased—a record according to the oldest newsdealers.

Every page of the TRUE STORY Magazine reflects personality. It is literally a personality magazine, made up of true stories from the lives of people in the ordinary walks of life.

It is filling a niche in the magazine world that was previously empty.

A continuous monthly increase in advertising (keyed advertising) attests its value as an advertising medium.

You can add TRUE STORY to your advertising list with complete assurance that your message is going to up-to-the minute people—opportunity seekers—the get-ahead kind.

Send for advertising rates and further information about this truly different magazine.

The Vickery & Hill List

Good Stories—Hearth and Home

is not a matter of weeks or months, but of years. The true worth of publications, like that of men, must be demonstrated by time. A substantial reputation and the making of friends and supporters is something publications, as well as men, get only through established merit which has stood the test of years.

For Forty-Five Years

the Vickery & Hill Publications have been building on the solid foundation of fair and liberal dealings with advertisers and subscribers

They have secured their immense paid subscription list because the country towns, villages and rural districts are full of intelligent people who are interested and instructed through the character of reading matter contained in these publications, and the result has been that readers have renewed their subscriptions year after year.

As a result the Vickery & Hill Publications now have one of the most substantial paid-in-advance subscription lists of any publication issued by any publishing house in the United States

Here's a Magazine That's BOUGHT—Not SOLD

ADVERTISERS are becoming more discriminating every year in their efforts to buy space in magazines which the "reader" really reads.

"Does your magazine come into the home as a result of some bargain subscription combination offer to lie around without even its wrapper being removed—or is it bought to be read?" That's the sort of questions that are fired at publishers to-day.

Here is where the PARISIENNE is "97% pure," for 97% of our circulation is bought at the news-stand each month, in competition with every other 20c Magazine in America, and every single copy is a copy that is bought to be read—a separate buying impulse necessary each month.

The Parisienne

is a magazine of to-day, and is read by—almost everybody. It has proven and is proving itself a splendid producer on that most difficult of all advertising to carry—the sort upon which returns must be forthcoming in directly traceable inquiries and orders right through the mail.

With a healthy, spontaneous, and growing circulation of 180,000 copies a month, at its present rate of $150.00 a page, the PARISIENNE offers an unusual investment, and we urge advertisers to make their first trial insertion at once, while the rate is low.

America's Most Entrancing Magazine

Saucy Stories

A magazine of piquant, roguish tales of men and women and life with its endless complications of triangles and quadrangles. Saucy Stories is another of the "Warner Publications" to make a sensational circulation success in its first year of publishing existence.

With over 125,000 enthusiastic readers at the moment this copy is written, Saucy Stories is rivalling its older companion of the Warner organization, Parisienne, which reached the 150,000 mark with its ninth month of publication.

This healthy, spontaneous, growing, "unforceable," news-stand circulation offers an unusually attractive market to advertisers, and especially to those looking for direct inquiries and sales through the mail.

STARTING with the issue of January 3, 1920, the "LONE SCOUT" appeared in new dress. A forty-pound book paper was substituted for the print paper we have been using since the publication was established. The reasons for this improvement in paper stock are our desire to give advertisers a better service and to satisfy the demand of our boy readers and their parents to make the "LONE SCOUT" the leader among publications appealing to boys. While the "LONE SCOUT" has reached this goal as regards editorial contents, the use of the book paper stock selected will enable us to produce a publication the appearance of which will be in keeping with the high character of its editorial contents.

LONE SCOUT

Published by the Founder of the Scout Movement in America

Present Editorial Policy to Continue

Enthusiastically Endorsed by the Boys and Their Parents

The success of the "LONE SCOUT" can be attributed largely to the editorial policy of permitting the boys to help edit their own paper. Approximately 50 per cent of the average issue is composed of contributions by the boys on various subjects of interest to each other, stories of their experiences, reports on contests and countless articles that only boys can produce and ones that every boy appreciates. The resultant appeal to the parent as well as the boy follows as a matter of course. The boy's eagerness to have his story accepted, and the parent's pride in his doing so, makes the "LONE SCOUT" of interest to all who may be interested in the boy.

To properly guide and direct the boys in their work; to aid them in living clean, healthy lives; to believe in liberty and justice for all; and to become good citizens by doing a useful thing each day—sufficient material is furnished by our editors to aid in this purpose. The result of this is a well balanced, real boys' magazine, edited by the boy, his parents and the publisher.

Advertising Rate

The advertising rate in "LONE SCOUT" is 60 cents per agate line. The flat rate of 60 cents per agate line applies throughout. No extra charge for color on space totaling one full page in one issue. Any combination of three colors is available on the back cover and three inside pages. No extra charge for these color positions. Orders for covers and color positions accepted in order as received. FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED. See rate card for detailed information.

The Saturday Blade and Chicago Ledger

are showing big gains in advertising volume for 1920; and likewise, the advertisers in these publications are enjoying big gains in their receipts from these publications.

Measure the value of a publication not only from the advertising volume, but from the volume of business secured from it by its advertisers.

Big increases in advertising lineage is common talk these days. This is all fine, but also hear what the advertiser has to say.

Publications that carry big volume year in and year out are those which have been tested and profitably used under all conditions, and need not wait for abnormal times to show big advertising revenue.

To this class belong THE SATURDAY BLADE and CHICAGO LEDGER. The mass of keyed advertising these papers carry for satisfied advertisers is proof of the purchasing power of their circulation.

The use of the BLADE and LEDGER exclusively, for reaching the small town field, by many publicity advertisers, proves the economical method for reaching this large out-of-the-way consuming clientele.

700,000 circulation weekly—$2.45 a line.

No extra charge for color or positions—first come, first served. All back covers for 1920 are sold. A few choice inside color positions still available. Consult your advertising agent or write us.

Rock Bottom Space Rates

LOWEST space rates are insured to advertisers by the Boyce Publications' policy of making the subscription price pay a profit.

If these papers carried no advertising, they would continue publishing. That is why the advertising rates of the Boyce Publications can and do represent an unprecedented bargain offer to the advertiser.

Soundest publishing standards would dictate that no publishing costs be saddled on the advertiser. This insures that the reader pays the full cost of what he gets and that his valuation of the paper is bona-fide.

These papers can compete with those sold at a nominal price primarily because of their tremendous reader grip, and secondarily because of mechanical efficiency which turns out and distributes high-grade, excellently printed papers at minimum cost.

LONE SCOUT

W. D. Boyce introduced the Boy Scout movement in America. When it took on the character of a city rather than a country organization, he organized the Lone Scout movement for small town and country boys. It has developed in its members a love of hardy outdoor life, sports, and occupations, and is considered by them the greatest movement ever started for their benefit.

The LONE SCOUT directs and supports their organization. It is essentially their own paper, and is largely made up of contributions from them. And these ambitious, hardy, money-earning boys are buyers of things they want—from gasoline motors to pocket flashlights. The field is left open to LONE SCOUT advertisers—and the paper has proved a wonderful result producer.

Needless to say, the recent crisis, focusing interest on outdoor life, endurance and hardihood, has strongly enhanced the normally strong appeal of LONE SCOUT, and its producing powers are at their height.

The Times is at the testing age.

Newspapers have three ages in their development—if they develop.

1. The period when advertisers do not expect much and take what results they get as a matter of course.
2. The period when advertisers check up results microscopically and compare them critically with results obtained elsewhere.
3. The period when, by reason of age and habit, advertising results are assumed, without inquiry.

In the most recent test of The Times, on a proposition involving investment and providing opportunity for accurate records, The Times showed three times as many results as one other Washington paper, twice as many as another, and exactly the same number as the other paper in the field.

A Good Advertisement

In Two, Three or Four Colors

On one of the cover pages of The American Woman, going to the homes of hundreds of thousands of women living in small towns and villages, constitutes one of the surest, safest and most profitable investments an advertiser can make.

It only takes a fair trial to convince the already successful advertiser that The American Woman is entitled to his largest sized copy. Even a small appropriation will enable any advertiser to discover how much business there is waiting for him through the use of The American Woman.

Each month's issue is a new opportunity, rich with the possibilities of making a large number of sales at a good profit.

Each issue missed means a loss to the advertiser and a loss to us. But the advertiser is by far the greater loser, because the returns which he would receive from his advertisement should be worth to him many times what he would pay us for the advertising space.

Little Rock, Arkansas

Dear Sir: I have watched with deep interest the progress of The Arkansas Homestead. It has steadily and surely established itself with the farmers of the state. I attribute this progress to the policy of your paper; particularly your editorial policy. I greatly appreciate the service that yours, an agricultural paper is doing for our farmers.

Very sincerely yours,

Nature smiled when she planned, developed and finished the wonderful field of which Enid is the center, and said, "I have done my best and the people who live here shall never lack."

Diversified Crops and Steady Oil Production at top prices testify to Nature's comment on her job. The people in Enid territory can buy anything they eat, wear or use, if they do not raise it themselves on their own unmortgaged farms and homes.

They read

The Enid Daily News

in greater numbers than any other paper here and their choice is willing and based solely on the reader value of our columns.

Advertisers who know, place this reader value in the "Asset Column" near the top when weighing Newspaper Space Values.

Astounding Facts Show Is Best Paying Medium Renewal Circulation Maintained Substantial People Maintained Reader Confidence Gives Advertiser

Here is the Reason why the Pathfinder Pays.
At the suggestion of a prominent Chicago Advertising Agency, we are enclosing "Questionnaires," like the form here reproduced, with our notices of expiration of subscription. So far, 837 of these blanks, filled in, have been returned to us, each one accompanied by $1 for renewal of subscription. These blanks came from every state and of the 837 subscribers returning same 641 own their homes or farms, 244 own an automobile, 392 have a telephone in their home, 304 own a piano, 288 own a phonograph, 332 own a washing machine, 245 are interested in tractors, and 564 say they buy goods by mail.

On the basis of our paid circulation of over 250,000, this would indicate that 75 per cent of our subscribers, or 187,000, own their homes or farms; 25 per cent, or 62,000, own automobiles; more than 100,000 have telephones; 175,000 have pianos, organs and phonographs; 90,000 own washing machines; 60,000 are interested in tractors, and 170,000 buy goods by mail.

This is an impressive statement. The continued patronage of hundreds of advertisers is evidence that the value of Pathfinder circulation is much above the average. It has quantity; quality and reader confidence, and space is sold at the pre-war valuation, 40 cents per 100,000 paid.

We have divided the original "Questionnaires" between our representatives, W. E. Herman, Boyce Bldg., Chicago, and Lee & Williamson, 381 Fourth Ave., New York, who will be pleased to show same for inspection upon request.

Educational Campaigns

When you want to instruct the public as to the special advantages of your product, the readers of Everyday Engineering are your first logical target. They are the Experimenters in electrical, mechanical, automobile, airplane, radio and chemical work. They are the men who are naturally interested in the comparative merits of all kinds of devices and products. They want to hear about your goods.

These 50,000 trained minds, convinced by your arguments, will constitute a tremendous "recommending force" which can be otherwise obtained only by expensive broad-side advertising.

The public at large does not appreciate technical arguments, but the readers of Everyday Engineering are actively interested in such details. Opinions of less technical people are most easily swayed by the convictions of this technically trained group, made up of professional men who have mechanical and electrical hobbies.

These men are:

	Automobile Owners			Aviators
ENGINEERS	{ Electrical	Mechanical	Chemical
	{ Aeronautical	Radio	Civil	Marine

These same men are large buyers of tools, electrical supplies, drawing instruments, and automobile accessories, not only for themselves, but for companies with which they are connected.

Always Amusing; Usually Clever; Often Brilliant

The new Smart Set is the best quarter's worth that the news-stands offer. There is never an issue without something truly noteworthy in it—a first rate short story, a memorable novelette, a haunting piece of poetry, an essay with genuine ideas, a double dozen of epigrams that touch the spot exactly.

The cleverest writers in the world, men and women, contribute to the new Smart Set. It is constantly discovering new ones. It has probably brought out more than all other American magazines combined. It cares nothing for established reputations. It never prints the bad stuff of authors who have grown famous—and gone stale. It never buys names.

The new Smart Set is not for the mob. It is not a "popular" magazine. It hasn't a circulation of a million, and never will have. Its aim is to give agreeable entertainment to the civilized minority. It tries to print the very things that one can never find in the other magazines.

Who Reads Smart Set

Members of America's smart set—and those who would like to be.

Men and women of culture and education, who are up-to-the-minute in everything that makes life worth living. This class has appreciation for the best things in life—has the money and willingness to spend it in the gratification of such desires.

Smart Set is a productive investment for the advertiser whose goods appeal to people of discrimination and the purchasing power that belongs with it.

SVENSKA KURIREN

is a weekly publication printed in the Swedish language. It is independent Republican, a high class family paper and read by all the members of the family.

Its object when started in 1884 was to educate the Swedish immigrants to love their new country and to encourage them to become good citizens. This standpoint has been maintained for over 30 years by the present owner and editor, and is highly appreciated by the old settlers as well as those who have come here in later years. Owing to our facilities and connections of long standing we are in a position to publish the news from Sweden two weeks ahead of other publications, and it is noted from coast to coast that the Svenska Kuriren stands foremost for its excellent products in fiction, short as well as serial stories, and its well-balanced and logical editorial articles on political questions of the day. These features and many others make this paper the favorite family paper among the Swedes in the United States and Canada.

The Readers Tell Their Own Story

"I am a young horticulturist very much interested in flowers as material for beautification. Receive several high priced magazines, but none give the wholesome enjoyment as do your little well composed copies." Joseph N. Unternaher.

"I always look forward to getting my dear little flower magazine. A number does not arrive that isn't helpful to the amateur gardener—that's its value. It is so practical." Mrs. W. W. Robertson.

"I have spent happy moments reading Park's Floral Magazine. I find I cannot do without it."
Mrs. Alice Phillips.

"I have had your magazine for thirty years and cannot do without it." Mrs. Geo. D. Blanehard.

"I began taking Park's when I was a little girl in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. I keep all my old Park's — yet throw away most other magazines."
Mrs. J. F. Warren

Successful Farming
aims to give one hundred per cent service to the people of the Great Food Produc-
